

INVITATION TO A LIVE WEBCAST

Is this diet adequate? Practical assessment of commercial diets and alternative feeding practices for healthy cats and dogs.

July 7, 2026 at 6 p.m. (EDT)

4:00 5:00 6:00 7:00 8:00 8:30
BC (PDT) AB (MDT) SK/MB (CDT) ON/QC (EDT) PEI/NB/NS (ADT) NL (NDT)

Selecting and evaluating an appropriate diet is a fundamental aspect of preventive healthcare for healthy cats and dogs. Navigating the ever-expanding landscape of commercial diets and alternative feeding practices can be challenging in clinical practice. In this session, Dr. Menniti will provide a practical framework for assessing the nutritional adequacy of commercial diets, guidance on evaluating homemade diets, and tools for determining whether a given diet is meeting the individual nutritional requirements of your feline and canine patients.

Sign up now for this live webcast at CommuniVET.com/en/ca/education/webcasts/is-this-diet-adequate

Sign up NOW!

Marie Menniti

BSc (Hons), BVM&S, MSc, AFHEA, MRCVS

Marie Menniti is a veterinarian who has always had a strong interest in using diet as part of the treatment of her patients. This led her to complete a clinical nutrition residency at Ghent University in Belgium. She now runs her own veterinary clinical nutrition consultancy based in the United Kingdom. Dr. Menniti is a member of the European Society of Veterinary and Comparative Nutrition and the Canadian Academy of Veterinary Nutrition. She regularly engages with colleagues around the world to stay up to date with the latest nutrition research.

The 2026 CAVN live webcast series will feature four live webcasts: this session, followed by three additional webcasts in August, September (French), and November. Stay tuned for more details on the upcoming sessions.

Brought to you by

In collaboration with

Powered by

